

Assembly of Spiritual and Paternal Fathers

The need to advocate for the assembly of panels of spiritual and paternal fathers from within our parishes goes out to all men of good will as a call to action. Willful intent to explore the opportunities of providing simple answers to questions that our parishioners may have, which are left unwittingly unanswered, will be the objective. These answers can easily be found in the New Covenant teachings, Mass, and the Sacraments of our Catholic faith, that unfortunately our brothers and sisters in Christ may not intentionally seek out.

The goal of the mission will be to offer solutions that could have the potential to ignite all fathers in our faith community to willfully and humbly take back their rightful place in the sanctity of the family by empowering them to lead in a way that is worthy of once again following.

The only way to change the narrative is to have a role in re-writing it. The content to be discussed will provide simple answers on how our Catholic faith-filled family can grow in the framework of the message, and most importantly, through the easy-to-understand messaging. The goal should be to intentionally remove the chaotic worldly narrative of relativism that is cast out as stumbling blocks to confuse our impressionable young Catholic men, by placing value back on our altars in the hands of our Eucharistic face of God, our priests. It all starts with the role of the father, both spiritual and paternal.

Deeper exploration of how we can all proactively take steps to intentionally change the narrative, and give strength and authority back to the role of the father, will be through clarity of vision in the Objective Truth found in our foundation of faith, the four pillars of our One Holy Catholic and Apostolic Church, and in sharing the awareness found in the traditional authority of the deposit of faith as shared in the Catechism of the Catholic Church.

One example of a simple way our spiritual fathers can reach into the hearts of our young Catholic men, to teach them how to fight the good fight, would be to challenge our congregations to spread the good news out into the world after the celebration of the Mass has ended.

Effort placed into sharing the content that is to be explored will prove to be very fruitful in discerning the father's ability to take back his rightful place in the sanctity of the family, while taking active steps towards making our sons and young Catholic men impenetrable. The need to restore the value of fellowship with our brothers in Christ can easily become the gathering call, worthy of following for men of good will. Our efforts can transform the lives of generations to come, as movement of the Holy Spirit takes hold of the humbled hearts in our assembly, as iron sharpens iron!
